

Concrete Site Manager Deniliquin

Mawsons is a family-run business that produces quality construction materials throughout Northern Victoria and Southern N.S.W. We seek a motivated and professional person with outstanding people skills for this diverse, full time role managing Mawsons concrete site at Deniliquin.

Concrete experience is not essential, as primarily we require an experienced manager and leader who is keen to learn and has established communication and organisational skills. The successful applicant will benefit from thorough formal and on the job training to help develop concrete process and industry knowledge.

This role reports to the Regional Operations Manager and directs all aspects of Deniliquin site operations, including plant and equipment needs. There will be a strong focus on managing existing customer relations and expanding sales across the region. Hands on duties include product delivery, concrete batching and loader operations as required.

The successful applicant will need to display a total commitment to site and team safety. Strong computer, administration and reporting skills are required. General truck driving experience and a current HR license would be an advantage.
